MOAI

DESIGN: PHILIP BRO

The Moai chair's large shell is formally inspired by the soft shapes acquired by square bricks and other stone after years of rolling back and forth on the beach. This highlights the chair's function as an 'unplugged' retreat from the hustle and bustle of daily life.

Moai chair is designed to close comfortably around you when you sit in it. It acts as a quiet little room on four legs that lets you have some peaceful moments for yourself. The distinctive notches around the armrest give it personality and a comfortable support when you are getting up. From the side they give the Moai chair a unique, slightly naïve expression that's reminiscent of the massive sculptures of faces on Easter Island.

The chair's upholstered shell rests on a simple metal cross that follows the chair's soft form and leads down into four turned wooden legs. Moai chair is a haven in a busy and chaotic time – like a cave to hide away in for a while.

FOLD

DESIGN: BUSK+HERTZOG

Remember the folded paper fortune tellers that children make? This inspiration led to the iconic and truly striking lounge chair FOLD. The inviting upholstery is cut into geometric shapes and sits lightly on four distinct legs. This creates a light and springy look despite of the generous padding. A relaxing chair for private homes and public spaces.

EMMA

DESIGN: THOMAS MÜLLER & JÜRIG WULFF

The Emma model is designed as a daybed that can also be used as a comfortable piece of furniture for all kinds of everyday uses. The pillows can be placed in whatever position suits you, for instance side by side in the classic position, at the end of the bed or in the middle, giving you lots of sitting and lying options.

The visually restrained and centring foot makes the bed look like it's hovering. Emma's simple eye-catching design is at once timeless and very familiar. The stitching on the mattress and pillows is another pleasing detail.
